

Better business will be topic

FREE business advice is on its way to Cassowary Coast businesses.

An event featuring one of Australia's top business coaches will be held in Innisfail's Shire Hall on September 14.

It has been organised through a partnership between an accounting firm and national business development franchise, 10X.

Business owners will have the opportunity to learn the strategies for success from one of Australia's top business coaches at The Edge, thanks to 10X Far North Qld, the business development division of accounting firm, Duesburys Accountants & Advisors Mareeba.

According to firm partner, Bronwyn Price, the comprehensive three-hour event, which is free for Innisfail, Tully and local surrounding area businesses, has so far proven successful in helping over 5000 business owners across Australia.

She is excited that Innisfail, Tully and surrounding area entrepreneurs now have the chance to benefit from the very same experts, resources and strategies that are usually reserved for high-level, expensive capital city events.

The event's key speaker, Dean Marinac, who is being flown in especially for the event, is one of Australia's leading minds in the business field, having advised small-to-medium business for the last 17 years.
