

Michael Sheargold is stepUp head coach and has made it his life's work to inspire and motivate business leaders and teams to reach their full potential.

Over his 18-year career as a professional business coach, he has hosted more than 5000 coaching sessions and is widely regarded as a leading authority on achieving excellent businesses results and reaching life's full potential.

His key phrase, "The power of an idea is in its implementation", helps individuals focus on taking action and implementing their own ideas.

Michael launched Real Estate

Results Network in 2005, a leading network of premier real estate agencies in Australia and New Zealand.

Michael's experience and strategies concerning language patterns, beliefs and communication are outstanding and he is focused on helping individuals and teams achieve outstanding results.

